SQUABBLE IN EUROPE GIVES CONCERN HERE

Possibility That America May Be Asked to Mediate in Controversy.

BRIAND IS SOLID AGAIN

Lloyd George Has Given Him an Issue Around Which French Will Rally.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington. — Trouble between Great Britain and France gives great concern here not because of any fear that the two countries will come into actual physical conflict but because the controversy may keep the European mind agog over war and its implications instead of peace and its economic benefits.

America's decision to keep hands off the Silesian quarrel can not be taken lightly. Of course President Harding and Secretary Hughes do not want to mix in what might be for the moment a strictly European quarrel but American interest in what is going on is as just as true today as it was when Senator Knox, leader of the irreconcilables inserted in the now famous paragraph five of his peace resolution a declaration that the United States would view with grave concern anything that threatened to upset the peace of the world.

So long as the dispute over the possession of Upper Silesia is a territorial squabble between European nations and gives no sign of growing into a major quarrel, America looks on and says nothing. But the possibility that the United States might be asked to mediate or might even be urged to tender her good offices is being discussed as a phase of the situation that would bring about a change of attitude at once.

The United States government appears hopeful that the French and British will get over their latest flare-up just as they have so many other outbreaks in the past. Official Washington discloses little talk of a possible war between France and Britain as some of the French dispatches have hinted in order to impress England with the serious effect of Prime Minister Lloyd George's utterances.

At bottom the belief here is that aside from the conflicting interests of France and Germany in the Silesian coal fields, domestic politics are playing a far greater part in France and Britain than anything else and that when the usual parliamentary crises are passed the European nations will slowly but surely solve the Silesian problems as they have many another tangled controversy growing out of the European war.

Premier Briand must face the French parliament this week. Since the French chamber last met, the Germans have accepted the reparation proposals of the allies and the occupation of the Ruhr on which the French military party had set its heart is for the moment retarded.

What has Premier Briand to offer? Only another German promise to pay. The opposition in France to Briand would have held up that promise to scorn and perhaps Premier Briand would have had difficulty holding his majority in the French parliament.

But Prime Minister Lloyd George has handed Premier Briand another issue. He has criticized France and said that he would prefer that Germany should pay down the uprising in Silesia instead of allied troops. He has hinted that the Polish insurgents are encouraged by the French troops now in Silesia. Here is an issue around which all France can rally.

Feeling against Germany can always be employed as a parliamentary maneuver. France doesn't want to give Germany an opportunity to use troops for anything. In a nutshell, Premier Briand will get a handsome vote of confidence and retain power—thanks to the timely use he has made of the Lloyd George speech.

Meanwhile in England, the prime minister has mended his political fences too. Knowing the softness of feeling of the British laborites for Germany, the British prime minister wishes to show his side more and more of the labor vote by his open opposition to the British laborite terms French militarism. Domestic politics again comes into prominence. As for the United States, her internal politics is no small factor either. France cannot rely upon an active support from President Harding who doesn't want to give the "irreconcilables" any further offense than already given in the decision to participate in the allied councils. The wealthiest and most powerful nation of all—the United States—is held at bay by domestic considerations. This means that Lloyd George feels free to go ahead without fear of the effects of any Franco-American entente.

OBREGON TAKES HAND IN RELIGIOUS WAR

Mexico City. — President Obregon Tuesday ordered the war ministry to use armed forces to prevent clashes between socialists and Catholics.

He also ordered that militant groups be prevented from meeting either in public buildings or churches. The order grew out of a recent anti-Catholic disturbance at Morelia when fifty were killed in a battle last week.

Ten Inches Girls Height

By United Press Leased Wire
Columbus, Ohio. — Science has fed ten inches to the height of a ten-year-old Ohio girl in the last six months. The nine-year-old sister of the girl has eaten almost as much height. That which adds inches to a person's size is tablets of thyroid glands of cattle and lambs.

The two children grown by science are the daughters of Mrs. T. W. Eschschmidt, of New Philadelphia, according to Dr. H. H. Goddard of the state bureau of juvenile research which has supervised the phenomenal development. Physically the two girls were the size of 18-months-old babies and neither could walk or talk when brought to the attention of the bureau last November.

"After 27 days of thyroid gland feeding the oldest child has grown three inches and today has grown a total of ten inches," Dr. Goddard said. The other has advanced almost as rapidly.

Dr. Goddard declared this is the fastest physical growth science has record of.

HARDING OPPOSES SENDING TROOPS TO STRIKE AREA

Cabinet Backs President's Opposition to Use of Army in West Virginia.

Washington. — President Harding is standing "pat" against the use of federal troops in the West Virginia mine strike situation, despite pressure from state authorities.

The cabinet considered the appeal of Governors Morrow, of Kentucky, and Morgan, West Virginia, for troops and appeared Tuesday to firmly behind Harding.

The president is reluctant to use federal troops until he is convinced that state authorities are powerless to deal with the situation, it was understood. He does not consider the army should be used as a police force in local disturbances. It is understood Harding will send a communication to Morgan this afternoon outlining his opinion.

Fear More Trouble
Williamson, W. Va. — Fears of further trouble were felt Tuesday following a comparative two day peace in the industrial warfare in the hill country east of here.

A brief exchange of shots at Rawley Monday served to maintain the tenseness which broke into a three day bullet battle between striking miners and company employees last Thursday.

Factions in the fight were still nested at vantage points in the Kentucky and West Virginia hills ready to rake the opposite mountains with machine gun fire at signs of renewed hostilities.

Ammunition supplies are being replenished and depleted stocks of food restored.

CABARET DANCERS PART WITH $10,000

Chicago. — Seventy-five dancers at a convivial cabaret paid the piper here early Tuesday to the tune of $10,000.

Thief bandits, guns drawn, interrupted the orchestra and the dancers up against the walls and took from them $10,000 in money and jewelry.

Max Brown, one of the proprietors, was hit on the head and bound. Rings, vanity cases, purses, furs and other valuables were tossed in the "pot" on the center of the floor.

The bandits made their getaway in an auto.

CHIEF JUSTICE RESTING AFTER MINOR OPERATION

Washington. — The condition of Chief Justice White Tuesday was described by his physician as "satisfactory."

White underwent a minor operation.

Germans Refuse To Surrender Bergdoll

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C. — German authorities at Baden have directly refused to hand over Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, army slacker, to the American army of occupation. Major William W. Hicks of the military intelligence, Tuesday testified before the house Bergdoll committee.

The request for Bergdoll's return was made by Major Bagby of the military intelligence at Coblenz, through the German military commission there, Hicks said.

He added the American officers in Germany have recommended that a formal demand be made upon the German national government by the United States. He indicated this would be done as soon as peace is formally declared.

Hicks revealed that Bergdoll's presence in Germany was learned shortly after October 26, 1920, upon the receipt of a cable from the military intelligence at Coblenz.

France Is Divided Over Reparations

FILIPINOS TAKE TO SPORTS LIKE DUCKS TO WATER

Dusky-Skinned Islanders Have Adopted Baseball as National Game.

By Charles Edward Russell
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co. Manila. — The gamblers and high-binders who are trying to kill baseball in America ever succeed in that iniquitous purpose the proud old national game can flap its wings and soar away to a land where it is sure always of the warmest welcome. It can make its agreeable habitat in the Philippines and be permanently at home here, for years ago the Philippine people adopted it with enthusiasm and played it with judgment.

Somehow, they naturally took to it. I suppose that not one hundred persons in all the islands had ever heard of baseball when the American came bearing it with the other appurtenances of light and culture, and now look at the blame thing. From one end of the islands to the other, baseball is the choice and favorite game. They play it in the mountains and by the sounding sea shore, among the rice fields in the north and by the hemp plantations down south. You cannot strike a village in the most remote corner of Luzon or most other islands where you will not see the boys playing it. It has been a photograph of young Igorrotes playing it without pants and then another of the same young Igorrotes in full uniform, champions of North Luzon or some such thing, with the silver cup of victory reposing in front of the crossed bats.

Also, I have seen a team of coffee-colored sugar pushers from somewhere up in the interior beat the crack nine from a United States battleship and put up as swift and hardy a game as any fan on earth could desire. Already this year the Filipinos have developed two pitchers of no-hit games against such accomplished performers with the ash as the best army nine in the Orient.

These young sugar boys have a pitcher, a trim, satiate youth named Paropilio, who has a major league squint in the corner of his left eye. In a recent game in Manila he pitched almost perfect ball and made four singles at the bat.

Boys and girls, all about the Philippines, they are all crazy about baseball. The girls play it as much as the boys, but with the indoor ball, of course. I have not the least doubt that there are more girls' indoor baseball teams on the one island of Luzon than in the whole United States. Some of these teams put up a wonderful game. At the Manila Carnival this year I saw contests between girls' teams that wrestled shouts of approval even from skeptical tars off the U. S. Huron, and that, it will be admitted, was going some. The girls

ONE YEAR IN JAIL FOR MRS. BERGDOLL

By United Press Leased Wire
Philadelphia. — Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll, mother of the slacker brothers, Tuesday was sentenced to serve one year and one day in jail for assisting them to escape, with the proviso that if she pays $7,000 fine before June 13, the prison sentence will be remitted.

Charles Braun and James B. Romig, accused jointly with Mrs. Bergdoll, were given the same sentences. The sentences are to be served in the Atlanta penitentiary.

Harry S. Shinn and Albert Mitchell, the other two defendants, were sentenced to six months in Mercer county at Trenton, N. J., and fined $1,000 each. It was also provided in the cases of Shinn and Mitchell, that if the fines are paid before June 13, the prison sentences will be remitted.

The sentences are to be served in the Atlanta penitentiary.

Rich Farmer Kills Himself Under Train

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison. — William Rogers, 70, wealthy farmer living at Fennimore, Grant county, committed suicide Sunday night by placing himself under a passenger train.

He lay on the outside of the rail and placed his head on the track allowing a slowly moving passenger train to decapitate him.

Rogers was despondent because of ill health, relatives said.

WEALTHY CLUBMAN IS SHOT IN WOMAN'S HOME

By United Press Leased Wire
New York. — The grand jury Tuesday began investigation of the shooting of John H. Reid, well-to-do clubman, in the home of Mrs. Hazel D. Warner in the Bronx.

Reid was in a precarious condition Tuesday in a hospital. He refused to talk.

Police announced they were hunting Don P. Collins, alleged gambler, for questioning in connection with the case. There is no formal charge against him, however.

One Group Believes Invasion Should Be Kept Up While Other Holds Any Settlement Is Better Than Present European Uncertainty.

By Colonel Edward M. House
Copyright, 1921 by Public Ledger Co. Paris. — Acceptance by the Germans of the reparations ultimatum is developing an interesting situation in France. Critics of the Briand government are contending that the Versailles treaty is not being enforced and that the agreement of Paris of January 29 has been substituted—and that it is such a modification of the Versailles treaty as is not acceptable to France. It will not be necessary for the government to go before the chamber of Deputies for ratification of its agreement, because the ratification agreement has registered the will of the supreme war council in the matter of reparations and under the Versailles Treaty, that is all that is necessary in order to make it binding. The meeting of the chamber next Thursday, after a vacation of four weeks, will be opened by a discussion which will lead up to a vote of confidence in the government. This vote probably will not be taken until some time the following week and after what seems likely to be an acrimonious debate covering several days in which Andre Tardieu will take the leading part. In this discussion the views of the various political leaders will have full expression.

While French opinion is divided, as yet in the allied and neutral countries, there is a feeling of great satisfaction that Premier Briand has been able to bring Germany to terms. However, there is still an influential group in France, who believe that the promise of the Germans to accept the reparations demand is of no more value than the German acceptance of the Versailles treaty and the promise made to carry out its provisions. They feel nothing but further delay, a delay which will be to German advantage and detrimental to French interests.

It is believed by this group that it would have been better not to have stopped at the Ruhr, but to have gone directly to Berlin and have dictated to Germany from there. On the other hand there is an influential group who believe that almost any settlement is better than a continuation of the uncertainty of the last two and one half years. In any event it seems clear that the amount Germany will pay to France will not be much more than half the cost needed to restore the devastated regions. At the moment France is much more interested in getting the billions from Germany which she feels are properly due her than in any other question, and whatever help we may be able to give toward pressing Germany to fulfill her treaty obligations will be more appreciated than any other thing we can do.

The chances are that the chamber of deputies will give the Briand government a substantial vote of confidence, but if it should not, that will not alter the situation, as far as the sum that has been fixed for Germany to pay and which she has agreed to pay. It will merely give France a government which sympathizes with the group who believe further occupation of German territory must be made in order to enforce the terms of the treaty. In the event President Millerand should be called upon to select some one to form a new cabinet, it may be either M. Viviani or M. Barthou.

Clemenceau is taking no part in the controversy. This rugged old statesman is still in good physical condition. He comes from his tiger hunting expedition in India refreshed rather than worn.

It is said that the British prime minister welcomed the disappearance from public life of his colleagues Clemenceau and Wilson. Until now it has left him alone in power—a power which had come to embrace a large part of the globe. There has been scarcely a question of international importance which could be settled without the sanction of the British prime minister but he can now no longer hold this power alone, for he has to reckon in the future with Aristide Briand.

FRENCHANGER FOR BRITAIN COOLING DOWN

Premier Briand Showing Willingness to Compromise With His Ally.

100 INSURGENTS KILLED

Fierce Battle Is Fought by Germans and Poles and Germans Gain Control.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris. — The French government Tuesday indicated semi-officially a desire to restore harmony with Great Britain. While Premier Briand met with his cabinet to draft his views on the division of Upper Silesia declaring he would not abandon his support of a partition which will give the bulk of the coal lands to Poland, it was indicated that he would be willing to compromise.

Indications were that the government will show its readiness to agree with Great Britain on the awarding of several cities to Germany, canceling plans to give them to Poland. It was indicated that Italy may be asked to suggest a plan of partition which can be accepted by her allies without loss of dignity. The inter-allied plebiscite commission was asked to submit its report by Saturday.

100 Insurgents Killed
Oppeln, Upper Silesia. — More than one hundred insurgents were killed by German irregulars at Oppeln, where the Germans assumed full control Tuesday.

German losses were trifling. The engagement was bitterly fought, Polish snipers using machine guns and rifles on the Germans who filtered into the city from the open country.

The engagement at Oppeln was the most important of numerous skirmishes between the two forces in conjunction with the Italians.

Italians Withdraw
Berlin. — Polish insurgents strengthened their hold on Upper Silesia Tuesday, according to reports here.

Italian soldiers who have been held in the Poles away from the southeastern cities of Pless and Rybnik were compelled to withdraw, being outmanned by Polish forces also entered the nearby town of Nikolski.

Pending an allied decision no German troops are being sent into Upper Silesia but officials are planning on further appeals to the allies on the basis that Germany's reparation obligations will be endangered if she does not have the rich coal region as one of her assets.

A report was circulated here that the Polish government is yielding to allied pressure and attempting to have the insurgents withdraw partially from Silesia.

38 LIVES LOST IN SINN FEIN RAIDS

Reprisals Quickly Following Every Ambush by Irish Soldiers.

BULLETIN

By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin. — Summoned by S. O. S. signals from the Kingston naval wireless station, reinforcements from a fleet of destroyers there repulsed an outnumbered Sinn Fein force at a Sinn Fein attack Monday night.

The small guard at the plant was overpowered by a sudden rush of Sinn Fein men but the operator managed to flash the distress call.

Tumbling into their small boats, the bluejackets, tin-hatted and equipped with rifles, hurried across the bay to the station and ejected the attackers.

London. — Smouldering ruins dotted southern Ireland Tuesday, memorials of an orgy of violence in which thirty-six lives were lost over Whitsunday. Three dead, mostly soldiers and police. The three additional were prisoners shot when they attempted to escape after their capture by a raiding party.

Reprisals followed swiftly on the Sinn Fein outbreaks. Every ambush was answered by a raid. Families suspected of Sinn Fein sympathies were given an hour's notice to remove their valuables after which their homes were fired.

The carnival of violence reached its climax coincidentally with the most promising peace negotiations yet suggested. Premier Lloyd George and "President" De Valera were exchanging notes indirectly in an effort to arrange a meeting.

JAPANESE STRIKE RIOTS RESULT IN MANY INJURIES

Honolulu. — Nine hundred striking electrical workers and 200 Japanese police fought a pitched battle at Olan, Japan, according to a Tokio dispatch to the Miti Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper published here.

Twenty strikers and 14 police were injured in the fighting, the dispatch said.

The workers called the strike, it was stated, in an effort to force employers to negotiate on wages and working conditions.

NEW POLICEMEN TRAP SALOONMEN

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee. — Four Milwaukee saloonkeepers are under arrest Tuesday, charged with violating the state prohibition law, because they failed to recognize new policemen.

Men recently appointed to the force to sent out in civilian clothes and are said to have brought to headquarters liquor purchased in the saloons.

Seventeen alleged liquor law violators, including one woman, were rounded up on grand jury indictments and additional warrants for arrests under federal charges are said to have been drawn up. Among those arrested and sentenced were John H. Kohl, Two Rivers, who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to three months in the house of correction; Otto Lam-burg and John J. Pabek, Manitowish, each sentenced to thirty days in the house of correction.

Walter Rugowski, Charles Anclair and Harry Tegel, Manitowish, pleaded not guilty. Anna Luke, of Greenleaf, the first woman arrested here for violation of the Volstead law, also pleaded not guilty.

FARMER REFERENDUM ON AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul. — Farmers of the nation Tuesday launched a referendum on agricultural problems facing congress.

Two million farmer members of the American Farm Bureau Federation are expected to answer fifteen questions on current subjects.

One of the chief objects of the referendum is to compile data on freight rates as affecting the farmer. An attempt will be made to cut from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 off the freight rate toll collected annually by the railroads, according to the farm bureau federation.

The questionnaire is expected to show that millions of tons of farm products are piled up now, farmers being unwilling to ship under present high freight rates.

The referendum includes proposals to make short selling of farm products illegal, to continue the excess profits tax, enact a sales tax and put the packing industry under regulation of the United States department of agriculture.

Other propositions are the construction of farm to market highways in preference to transcontinental pleasure highways; military roads; the completion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway; enactment of "truth in fabric" legislation; classification by the federal reserve banks of loans on a basis of the priority of basic production of all kinds; and development of a rural credits system.

The referendum will be throughout the nation.

In Minnesota, there will be 1,000 township and county caucuses for debate of the questions promulgated.

POLITICS STIRS CHURCH MEETING

By United Press Leased Wire
Warsaw, Ind. — Delegates arriving here Tuesday for the 133rd general assembly of the Presbyterian church which opens Thursday, were greeted with an undercurrent of political talk.

One of the first questions arising will be the election of a moderator to succeed the Rev. Samuel S. Palmer of Columbus, Ohio.

This position is one of high honor in Presbyterian circles and is always sought by many candidates.

Another election in which politics is involved will be that of stated clerk to succeed the late Rev. W. H. Roberts, of Philadelphia, who died since the last general assembly.

The post of stated clerk is declared the highest individual position in the church because of the authority and honor and salary it carries and this also is the center of a miniature political contest.

SENATE WILL VOTE ON DISARMAMENT

Washington, D. C. — The senate is to be given an opportunity to vote on the question of an international naval disarmament conference, Senator Poindexter, Washington, announced Tuesday.

Poindexter in charge of the navy bill, said he would not raise a point of order against Senator Borah's amendment proposing a conference between the United States, Great Britain and Japan on a reduction of naval armaments.

"The amendment is subject to a point of order, but I shall not raise it," said Poindexter.

"In fact I voted for the proposal last session and I see no reason for not voting for it now."

CUT DOWN NUMBER OF PROHIBITION AGENTS

Washington, D. C. — The federal prohibition enforcement forces have been decreased until July 1, because of insufficient appropriations, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has informed the house appropriations committee.

A number of prohibition agents have been suspended for three months, he said, adding that this plan was decided upon at a conference with the prohibition commissioner in order not to ask congress for a deficiency.

VILLA'S AVIATOR DEAD IN MILWAUKEE

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee. — Klaus A. Bergenthal, aviator with Pancho Villa in Mexico in 1915, and well known Milwaukee clubman, was killed here Tuesday morning when his automobile crashed into a street car.

When his car, a small roadster, struck the trolley car, the impact hurled Bergenthal through the windshield. He struck the pavement with his head. He was dead when an ambulance reached a hospital.

Bergenthal, who was 28 years old, was the son of August Bergenthal, secretary of the Red Star Yeast and Products company. He was the owner of one of Milwaukee's first planes and reached the Mexican front a few hours before Villa's defeat at the hands of General Obregon, now president of the southern republic. He was one of the Americans with Villa ordered back to the United States under threat of losing their citizenship by former President Wilson.

SOCIALISTS LOSE ITALIAN ELECTION

By United Press Leased Wire
Rome. — Returns from the national elections Tuesday rolled up an overwhelming conservative majority.

Conservative came slowly from widely scattered districts and the press hesitated to make predictions. The general opinion seemed to be that the next chamber will contain from 250 to 285 members of the coalition headed by Premier Giolitti—the party opposing radical socialists, communists and other extremists.

It was indicated other parties will be represented as follows: Official socialists, 90 to 110; popularists, 60 to 107; communists, 10 to 15; republicans, 10 to 15; fascists, 20 to 25; combatants, 10 to 15; slavo-Germans, 10 to 11.

BOY'S GET RICK QUICK SCHEME NIPPED IN BUD

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — The S Film company had gone broke Tuesday.

The company had placarded the city offering to rent the best six reel thrillers from 25 cents to $1.00 a day. These usually cost $500 a day.

Leo Kardelzinski, 11 years old, the president of the company was arrested.

He told how he did it: "Me and the kids used to visit a film joint and steal their celluloid. Then we'd rent 'em at professional rates."

President Lezerman of the film company from which the films were stolen, offered a job to President Kardelzinski of the S Film company, but the latter turned it down.

HUGE CROWD SEES LAWRENCE PLAY

An audience which filled nearly every seat in Lawrence Memorial chapel saw Lawrence college students present a splendid comedy, "Come out of the Kitchen," Monday evening.

The play was probably the best ever presented by Lawrence students and showed weeks of rehearsal.

A feature which was particularly pleasing was the scenery built especially for the production. Miss Harri-man and Miss Bagge perhaps were the outstanding stars of the production although every one in the cast measured up to the high standard set by the those two young women.

EPSOM SALTS LIKE LEMONADE

You can now buy real epsom salts without the awful taste and nausea, by asking your druggist for a handy package of "Epsomade Salts" which looks and acts exactly like epsom salts, because it is pure epsom salts combined with fruit derivative salts, giving it the taste of sparkling lemonade.

Take a spoonful in a glass of cold water whenever you feel bilious, head-achy or constipated. "Epsomade Salts" is the much talked of discovery of the American Epsom Association.

GIRLS! LEMONS WHITEN SKIN AND BLEACH FRECKLES

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

STREET CARS ARE COACHES DE LUXE

A. K. Ellis Has Pictures Telling Story of Street Car Company Progress.

Progress made by street railway companies in development of equipment and service is shown at a glance in an interesting series of photographs received by A. K. Ellis, general manager of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company from the American Electric Railway association. The pictures have been made in poster form, two copies of which Mr. Ellis has had framed. One will hang in his office and the other will be presented to some public building.

Entitled "From Hay Burner to Rapid Transit," the poster shows the horse cars of the old days, the antedated mule cars, the first electric cars and the large, modern interurban cars used here. The pictures date back as far as 1857.

One of the most interesting pictures is that of a horse car used near Denver, in the semi-mountainous districts. It was the practice to have the horse pull the car to the top of a long grade. The horse then was placed on the platform of the car to help provide ballast and the car was allowed to coast down hill, controlled

THINK SHIP BRINGS APPLETON BODIES

Caskets of Local Heroes of World War Expected Soon. Ready for Funeral.

Bodies of several Appleton heroes who died on the battlefields of France are expected to be aboard the United States transport Wheaton, which docked at Hoboken Monday, according to word received by local officials of Oney Johnston post of the American legion. The transport carried 6,000 bodies, the largest single shipment reaching the American coast.

It will be the aim of the government to have these bodies conveyed to the homes of the soldiers in time for burial before Memorial day so the tributes, flowers and exercises may also be bestowed in their honor. No definite word has been received here of the identity of these bodies, but telegrams will be forthcoming from the war department if any are to be sent here. Other bodies arriving on transports docking more than a week ago may arrive in Appleton soon.

Arrangements practically are completed for the public funeral of the "unknown soldier," which is to be held when the first corpse arrives, and is to be commemorative of all Appleton heroes who died during the World war. Organization machinery per-

SECOND ANNIVERSARY OF BIG HOMECOMING

Members of Company A, who served during the war as part of a machine gun battalion, returned home from France two years ago Monday, May 16. It was about sundown when they reached here and notwithstanding it was cold and wet thousands of people were out to greet them. The train stopped at College-ave. crossing, where they formed into line and marched directly to the depot. The public demonstration was delayed until July 4, when the soldiers of the county were guests of honor at an elaborate celebration.

by the driver's brake. A mule car is shown, with a capacity of less than a dozen passengers. One of the first electric cars was like a short box car with motors on the floor operating the wheels of the car by chains. This power outfit was attached to the old horse car and pulled it along the track.

Figures printed in the center of the group of pictures tell that the street railways of today carry a total of 14,000,000,000 passengers a year. The cost of the old horse car was $1,200. New types of cars cost from $12,000 to $15,000. Employees were paid 75 cents to $1.75 a day and now receive from 300 to 700 per cent more.

These pictures and their story reminded Mr. Ellis of his early experiences with horse cars. He was assigned the task of teaching every employe on the Archer-ave. system in Chicago how to run the electric cars when they first were inaugurated. It took him six months to convert the horse drivers into motormen. It was an amusing task because the motormen, through force of habit, persisted in shouting "whoa" every time they applied the brake and shut off the power.

REGULATING GRAIN SPECULATION

The house has passed the Tinecher bill to regulate dealing in grain futures by a vote of 269 to 69 and it now goes to the senate for consideration. The measure is designed to destroy manipulation of the grain market. To the extent that it accomplishes this end it is entirely desirable. Whether it goes so far in its attempt to control dealings in futures as to interfere with legitimate transactions it is the proper test of its merit. Boards of trade within right limitations perform a useful and necessary function in the marketing of the country's grain. They serve as clearing houses through which markets are provided for both contract and cash sales. They afford a medium for immediate realization upon the staple farm products, irrespective of the volume. They afford insurance against future contingencies and uncertainties. Efforts to dispense with boards of trade have been unsuccessful. Until wholly different agencies are established for absorbing farm staples such as grains and cotton the board of trade is a necessary instrumentality for the handling and underwriting of crops.

There are, however, certain abuses of trading which have grown up in connection with legitimate operations that are highly pernicious in the wrongs they do to the producer and in the burdens they inflict upon the public. There ought to be better regulation of the purely gambling features, like short selling. Men who operate on the Chicago Board of trade, for instance, who have no other interest in the market than to gamble with a commodity they do not own, never expect to own or could not buy or sell in case they were "called," are an economic leech and perform no useful service to anyone. Furthermore, it is their operations which result in pools and artificial manipulation of the markets for the enrichment or impoverishment of speculators as the case may be. Unfortunately their operations have a disturbing and wholly objectionable effect upon legitimate trading. The farmer is robbed by them and the consumer exploited.

We all recognize, of course, that marketing facilities which will stabilize prices and the orderly movement of crops are essential. Elements and practices which militate against either or both are vicious and ought to be stringently regulated by law. If the bill before congress can eliminate these excesses by prohibiting or by taxing them out of existence without destroying the sound functions of boards of trade a great reform will have been accomplished and the country will benefit by it tremendously. Gambling which is purely at the expense of the farmer or consumer ought to be suppressed and congress will be warranted in going to the full limit in its extermination. If the measure it now has before it has been carefully worked out to preserve what is good as well as to purge what is bad the sooner it is enacted into law the better. Everyone knows and admits that there is a vast amount of wrong in connection with these great marketing agencies and the speculation they now foster. Everyone knows that corrective remedies ought to be applied.

It is to be hoped congress has not gone too far, but has gone far enough in its effort to curb this evil. Whether it has or has not is for the president to determine in the event the bill comes before him for his signature. In making his decision it is to be assumed that he will take advice from business men whose morality and ethics are above question. Certainly he should not be influenced by the clamor of speculators against it. Men who buy and sell real wheat or its equivalent are to be considered; those who do not deserve no consideration.

THE SLACKER LISTS

The long-deferred publication of our slacker lists is causing hardly a stir. The public seems to have lost interest. We may reasonably expect the whole matter to be dropped in a short time with an almost negligible percentage of our slackers brought to trial.

The causes for this apparent indifference to what was a few years ago regarded as a heinous offense are not far to seek. The war department is partly at fault. It began many months ago to announce forthcoming slacker lists. Periodically the announcement was renewed—the lists were being prepared—a few weeks more and every slacker's name would be made public. These advance announcements gave the guilty all the opportunity they could ask to make a getaway, frame an alibi or otherwise exonerate themselves. Meanwhile the public, always vitally interested in bringing individuals to justice though never greatly concerned about abstract principles, lost its appetite for names and addresses.

But the war department was not wholly to blame. In the nature of the undertaking itself accuracy was impossible. Draft boards, composed of untrained or poorly trained civilian clerks, did their work at top speed and under great pressure. Mistakes were inevitable and there was no way of rectifying many of them once they were made. Men were tentatively accepted and rejected again and again. Conditions were laid out. Special examinations and reclassification procedures necessitated handling papers many times. Thousands of men eligible for conscription preferred enlistment to the draft. Yet the names of many of them went in to Washington as slackers. It is safe to say that our slacker lists contain the names of many soldiers now lying under the sod in France. Certainly the American people do not want to hand these names down to infamy.

Now that our army posts and camps have the lists in hand and are beginning to publish them the names of many ex-service men are being maligned. The first name on the first list released at Fort Sheridan was the name of a lieutenant colonel, who entered the service as a private. Similar mistakes have come to light in New York and other cities. The public is not a little disgusted and the newspapers generally are declining to print the lists, holding that the chances of defaming both dead and living who have served their country faithfully are so many that it is better all the slackers should go unwhipped of justice than that innocent men should suffer a wrong of the sort. There ought to be a better way than this bird-shot method of shooting into the ranks.

THE AGILE MINORITY

Democrats who supported a big navy building program under Woodrow Wilson are now opposing the same program under President Harding. They want navy building stayed until the president calls an international conference on naval disarmament. This seems like a reasonable request to make and a large portion of the public is with the Democrats, though an impartial observer can't help doubting the sincerity of such a sudden championship of public interests.

Having once argued for this same naval building program these Democrats are well prepared now to argue against it. They know how to anticipate objections and score with the people. If they are good politicians they are probably, at heart, as much for the program as they ever were. Knowing, however, that they are safely in the minority they welcome and make the most of the opportunity to lay it on heavy and curry favor with the great American voter. As for the Republicans, they are doing the same thing the Democrats did before the tables were turned. They are accusing the opposition of hampering and insulting the president.

It is mildly amusing—this spectacle of the minority party in congress taking up regularly the championship of the public interest. And yet it is a necessary part of our party form of government. If all opposition to administrative policies was suddenly removed and no one was left to cry out against the party in power in behalf of the poor, helpless public, our party government would cease to exist. Good politicians know that it behooves the minority to keep things moving.

SPEAKING OF MUSCLE

The public in general has a fancy that hypertrophied or enlarged muscles signify good health. People often express surprise that some one of exceptional muscular strength or athletic prowess has been stricken down with illness. As a matter of fact an individual's muscular development has no more to do with his resistance or immunity to disease than the color of his cheeks has to do with the richness of his blood. Many an athletic young ruddy cheeks is anemic, and many an individual who suffers from general exercise is essential for good health. Most people in comfortable circumstances suffer from want of sufficient daily exercise. A little too much exercise, causing hypertrophy or overgrowth of some or all of the muscles, is a serious drain on vital energy—the unnecessarily large muscles sap the individual's energies, and that explains why physical culture freaks never win any races or break any records.

It would take a pretty efficient little muscle to lift a ton of coal to a height of 122 feet every day. Yet you and I have a muscle that does that amount of work every day and often two or three times as much work in a day. It is the heart muscle. With a normal blood pressure the heart pumps not less than 2 1/2 ounces of blood at each beat (amounting to 7 1/2 tons in the day) to an equivalent of 122 feet high. With a blood pressure somewhat above the normal, the work the heart does is greatly increased. In this manner a severe and prolonged muscular effort throws a heavy strain on the heart. A football contest, for example, is a strain much too great for the heart of a growing youth. High school football is an unfortunate imitation of college wars, and many a lad suffers a heart strain that handicaps his whole future, not only by reason of his youthful undevelopment but because of his poor training. Boxing might well take the place of football in high school athletics. Football is a man's game.

The paramount problem in every case of heart disease or "heart trouble" is the careful estimation of the efficiency of the heart muscle and the application of just the proper measures to increase that efficiency without embarrassment to the capabilities of the patient's circulation. This is the only secret of the success of some physicians in treating heart disease (there are no heart specialists in this country). The aim and object of all treatment—rest or graded exercise, diet, drugs, baths, correction of errors of hygiene, and the like—is to develop the greatest possible efficiency in the handicapped heart. There is no specific treatment for impairment of the heart muscle. But intelligent treatment, nevertheless accomplishes marvels.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Iron in Blood

What would you do for excess iron in the blood? What foods can you suggest that furnish iron?

ANSWER.—1. No one can answer that satisfactorily but your physician. 2. Lettuce, raisins, peas, oatmeal, prunes, onions, spinach, almonds, egg yolks, beef, baked potato skins, strawberries, pineapples, cornmeal, asparagus, tomatoes, celery, beets, rye flour, barley flour, unadorned grain wheat.

Whooping Cough

How long is a child with whooping cough a menace to other children playing with him? Has the disease run its course in six weeks or is it still whooping cough as long as the child whoops or coughs in a choking manner? Should clothing, books, etc., be disinfected before removal to another home? (Mrs. P. E.)

ANSWER.—The disease may still be spread as long as there is spasmodic, or paroxysmal coughing with expectoration. Books cannot be disinfected. Clothing should be steam sterilized if it has been soiled by the patient.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Tuesday, May 19, 1896

John VandeBogart went to Stules to operate a saw mill.

Otto Spangler of Hortonville was in Appleton on business.

E. W. Bookstader made a business trip to Kaukauna on his wheel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wambold were guests the day previous of Dr. and Mrs. Orrin Thompson, Neenah.

S. C. Shannon purchased the Heister & Vande-grift stock of groceries.

The work of excavating for the new store building to be erected at the corner of College-ave. and Morrison-st. by A. W. Patten was begun.

Visitors' day at Ryan high school was designated as the following Saturday. It was designed particularly to show the laboratory work in the natural and physical sciences and the work of the manual training department.

Francis S. Bradford and Miss Etta Stevens, former assistant principal in the Third ward high school, were married at the home of the bride's father, A. H. Stevens, at Kaukauna.

Capt. J. H. Marston, W. D. Gibson, Sam Ryan, William Wilson, J. H. Hanchett, Alfred Galpin and W. F. Merrill were planning to attend the state encampment at Racine.

John M. Baer was appointed special administrator of the estate of W. S. Warner by County Judge G. T. Moeskes.

Appleton Castle No. 9 of the Order of Knights of the Golden Eagle was organized at the Kometic hall with a charter membership of 28. The officers elected were: Supreme deputy, Sam Ryan; noble chief, F. H. Blood; vice chief, J. H. Cook; high priest, David J. Ryan; venerable hermit, William Wilson; master of records, Charles H. Brooks; master of the exchequer, A. G. Hatch.

The new Standard band, under the leadership of Prof. Stewart made its first public appearance on the streets the evening previous.

"I SEE BY THE PAPER"

About 24 million copies of newspapers are now sold daily in the United States. Practically everybody reads a newspaper.

Hence the average paper is read by four persons. In many communities the popular paper has an average of five readers for every copy sold.

That should interest advertisers.

Incidentally, we wonder how many times a paper is read after you throw it into your wastebasket and before it reaches the machine that makes it into pulp, that, in turn, becomes strawboard or wrapping paper.

For who, except a map-maker, can resist glancing at the headlines of a newspaper, no matter how old it may be or where it is discovered?

Housewives, who in changing newspapers on pantry shelves stop to read the headlines or look at the pictures, will vouch for that.

MEDAL FOR DOG HERO

London.—Gordon Lucas was walking along a country road with his dog. Suddenly the dog seized him and threw him into a hedge. Just then an auto load of joy riders whizzed past. The dog got a medal for bravery.

Waste of Time

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—The old evil of permitting defeated members of congress to continue to sit and enact the nation's laws for four months after their successors have been elected is again causing a great deal of discussion in congress. Ordinarily, this discussion is revived every two years, during the pre-election campaign.

Haskin

The fact that it is now under discussion at the beginning of a new administration, is taken as an indication that there is a better chance than ever before of changing the existing law, and remedying the difficulty.

Another thing which is condemned unanimously by public men, but which has never been changed, is that a newly elected President does not take office until four months, sometimes to a day, from the date of his election. But this occurs only once in four years, and often only once in eight years. Therefore, despite the greater importance of the presidential position, the situation as it affects congress is generally regarded by members of that body as in more vital need of remedy by legislation.

There is a widespread belief that an amendment to the Constitution would be needed to change the convention date of congress. This is not so, and is proved by the simple words of the Constitution itself. The second paragraph of Section 4, Article 1, provides:

"The Congress shall assemble at least once in every year, and such meeting shall be on the first Monday in December, unless they shall by law appoint a different day."

"They" refers to the members of congress. It is generally conceded that the meeting date of congress can, by authority of this section of the Constitution, be changed to any time the majority of its members may select, if the President approves of the change.

One of the greatest objections to the present system is that under ordinary conditions, a Member of the House or Senate elected in November of one year does not take his seat in congress until December of the following year. In the case of Members of the House, this leaves them but eleven months before they must be up for reelection. It has worked out in hundreds of cases that newly elected Members of the House, coming to Washington for the first time under such conditions, have to give nearly all of their time to the business of politics in order to keep their coveted positions. Their strictly congressional duties naturally suffer from this neglect, and the whole country is the loser.

Defeated Congressmen Hold Seats

Another objection often brought forward is that Members of the House and Senate continue to serve for four months after their defeat at the polls. When this is combined with an over-turn of the party holding the executive power, it has always resulted in the government being practically dead until after the inauguration of the new President and the convention of the new Congress. A case in point has just occurred. While there was, of course, a Republican majority in both branches of the Congress, this majority was materially increased on both sides of the Capitol as a result of the elections last November. Also, the Democratic aspirant for the presidential office was overwhelmingly defeated.

With this expression of the will of the American people registered, the waning Wilson administration was forced to sit and twiddle its thumbs until March fourth. Not until then could the cogs of the Governmental machinery start again. A parallel situation developed when Woodrow Wilson was first elected. The then President, William Howard Taft, feeling an obligation not to embarrass the man who would succeed him, was

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Q. What were the vocations of the Twelve Apostles? A. A. A.

A. Dr. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas's, Washington, D. C., says that "There are only five of the Twelve Apostles, whose occupations we know. These were Saints Peter and Andrew, and Saints James and John (Sons of Zebedee); these were fishermen. St. Matthew, though a fisherman, was a Roman toll or tax-gatherer. Saint Thomas is believed to have been a carpenter.

Q. Of the remaining five, no one knows anything about their occupations and to credit them with any one particular trade would be unprofitable guess work. We might add that St. Bartholomew is thought to have been of noble birth, the only one of the apostles of whom that could be said. Simon Zelotes is thought to have been a Pharisee. It is very remarkable how little we know of the apostles save Saint Matthew and the first four mentioned."

Q. Where is the largest wireless station? J. C.

A. The Lafayette Station at Lyons, France, is considered the largest in the world. It employs more men and sends many more messages than any other station. It has a wave length of 15,500 meters. The largest station in the United States is that at Annapolis, and its wave length is between 10,000 and 17,300 meters.

Q. What fish lay the most eggs? F. I. H.

A. The turbot lays the most eggs—about 14,000,000. This is an estimate only, since it would take a person 122,214 days to count the eggs of one turbot, even should he count steadily 14 hours a day.

Q. Where did the daylight saving plan originate and what was the idea back of it. C. W. C.

A. The daylight saving measure provided that clocks should be moved ahead one hour during spring and summer months and moved back in October. This was to make a greater number of daylight working hours. The idea originated in England several years ago but did not receive attention until the war when it was adopted as an economic measure by most European countries and finally in 1917 by the United States. After the war this measure was repealed but several states observe it, and many cities in other states.

Q. What is a natural "Jack Lantern" and what causes them to form? W. L. Q.

A. The "Jack o' Lantern" is a light which generally appears over marshy places, in church yards and over stagnant pools. Many efforts have been made to discover its cause, but these attempts have failed. One explanation is that the ignis fatuus, to use the scientific name, is due to phosphuretted hydrogen gas, which possesses the property of igniting when it comes in contact with dry atmospheric air.

BABY'S PICTURE IN MURDERER'S COFFIN

By R. H. Whitney
Special to Post-Crescent

New York.—In the coffin containing the body of James O'Dell, executed at Sing Sing, April 28, is the picture of his baby girl, Mildred Naomi O'Dell. Tasted to a piece of cardboard and stained with his tears, the picture of the little one whom he had never seen, is pressed over his heart.

The mother of Mildred, and little Mildred herself, are locked in a cell at Auburn prison. The baby had been named Gloria, but just before her father went to the electric chair he asked that she be named Naomi, and his wife, complying with the request, gave her the name of Mildred Naomi.

That had been the name of James O'Dell's mother.

On the desk of Governor Miller is a formal request from more than 10,000 persons, asking him to commute the sentence of Mrs. O'Dell so that she may take baby Mildred and start life anew.

The governor has given no indication of what he will do. But his chief adviser, Owen Potter, delegated to ascertain all the facts in the case and submit them with recommendations has announced that he is strongly in favor of executive clemency. James O'Dell and his wife were convicted of slaying Edward Kneip in Rochester, after Kneip had brazenly confessed to wrecking the life of Mrs. O'Dell.

O'Dell was arrested, charged with murder, convicted and sentenced to death. His wife, likewise convicted of complicity, was sentenced to Auburn prison for 20 years. Two weeks after she arrived there baby Mildred was born.

Just before his execution O'Dell wrote a tender note to his wife and a note to his little girl, which is to be held for her until she is able to read. Warden Lawos says that when these notes were read by veteran prisoners they brought tears to eyes long dry.

Old Folks Made New
"It is now five months since I took a course of your medicine for gas and stomach trouble and I am feeling entirely well. My friends all tell me I am looking twenty years younger and I certainly feel as they say. I am recommending May's Wonderful Remedy to all ailing with stomach and liver trouble." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convalesce or money refunded.—Druggists everywhere. adv.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this preparation a trial.

"Then how about a tight-rope?" inquired Granny. "Don't you s'pose I'd be as good at rope-walking as that high-faluting French poodle?"

"Yes," declared Nancy, "only if you'd fall there would be so much more of you to get hurt."

"Well, that wasn't the reason!" said Granny with spirit. "And look at the way they taught the elephant to carry people around on his trunk!"

"But you haven't any trunk!" Flippety-Flap told her.

"Excuses! Always excuses!" snorted Granny, wading deeper into the muddy river and ducking her head. "I tell you I'm not going back."

The twins looked at the fairyman and the fairyman looked at the twins, then they all shook their heads. "It's no use. She won't go!" said Nick.

Just then an idea popped into Flippety-Flap's head.

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

A Transition To Better Times.

"I quieted her by telling her what bank would doubtless make a loan on her property. Then I advised her to relax and give up, and stop nagging. That's serious self-discipline, you know, for some wives!" Martha explained.

"It does seem a pity that wives should often nag husbands most just when the poor men need the most sympathy," I agreed, and then I flushed and hoped that Martha didn't notice my embarrassment. I flushed because I myself more than once had

"We ought to remember what we learned about 'morale' in the war," I ventured. "Worry makes the worrier sick. The morbid, nagging, melancholy woman finally develops a nerve poison, and robs herself of her ability to care for her family when it needs her most, and wears down her poor husband's nerves—until he isn't fit to hold any kind of a job."

"While the sympathetic wives are actually helping the nation to endure a hard month in a truly wonderful way."

"American women assumed their share of our war burdens with grand success. Now they have to face another kind of war, doubtless a short fretted and fussed at poor Bob when I might better have petted and praised him. But my failure to live according to my principle didn't alter its excellence.

Martha took up my idea: "I guess we women are too apt to make husbands suffer for what they can't help. We have hysteria just to show a man how terribly his failure to do this or that affects our sensitive natures." Consider the present slowing down of business and the unfortunate results in some homes. You'd think that the end of the world had come from the way some wives carry on when the husbands are out of work. Why, this is only a period of transition to better times, and I do believe that women can shorten it by facing it with courage, by keeping up the spirits of their husbands, and by preserving a bit of cheer in the home for their children's sake!"

one, and I wonder why they can't take its trials with the same fine spirit they had in 1917."

"They could and they would if they'd weep less and think more—"

A phone bell interrupted me. The office instrument was at my elbow. I answered it:

"You, Ann? How did you locate me in Martha's office? You need a lawyer? Now what have you been up to, Ann Lorimer? Sued for a bill, I suppose? What's that? You're in jail? IN JAIL?"

I handed the phone to Martha with a laugh:

"Ann is joking! She says she needs you because she's in jail!"

Martha took the receiver and its tined quietly to a wordy hail beating against her tympanum. Soon she stopped smiling, and I began to get very anxious.

MYSTERY AIR AROUND "BEACH" DANCING PARTY

An air of mystery surrounds the preparation for the "Beach" dancing party which the recreation department is giving Friday evening as an extra dance for the purpose of raising funds for the vacation house of the department.

One of the features of the party is to be a balloon dance in which each couple who wishes will be given a balloon. During the dance, that is while the music is heard, it will be permissible for the dancers to break as many of the balloons as possible, but as quickly as the music ceases, the balloons cannot be touched. The couple which is able to protect its balloon the longest will be presented with two prizes, one for the girl and one for the boy.

There will be several mysterious features during the dance which the committee is keeping a secret. Dancing will continue until 1 o'clock. Booths of punch and ice cream will be decorated to represent the booths seen at beaches. The money made on this dance will apply directly on the debt of $1,450 on the vacation house. It is expected that this party will eat up a large share of the indebtedness.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

Granny's Complaint
Old Granny Hippo got crosser and crosser. "No, I don't like the circus anyway, so you need not coax me," she said to the twins and Flippety-Flap. "The callopie being out of tune was bad enough, but I had all sorts of grievances. To begin with, they never taught me a trick. I've always wanted to jump through a paper-hoop, but no one ever took the trouble to show me how to do it."

"And to walk about on my hind legs balancing a pole on my nose, like the brown bear, has been the height of my ambition. But, no sir! They never tried me at that either. I'm sure that my legs are quite as good as his, and as for my nose, you may see for yourselves. I could balance a whole side-show on it."

"But," said Nick, "that's the reason they didn't give you a stick. It was too easy for you. It wouldn't have been a trick."

PETITION COUNCIL FOR TARVIA PAVING

Property Holders Discuss Paving
at Meeting—Students Give Recital.

Kaukauna.—Petitions asking for tarvia pavement on the south side streets were circulated and signed at a meeting of the south side abutting property owners Monday evening in Corcoran's hall. The action was necessary since the council rejected all paving bids at the last council meeting. More than 50 persons attended the meeting. Mayor C. E. Raugh put the comparative costs of different paving materials before the people and explained to them that they must sign the petition in order to get paving of any kind.

Tarvia, because it is cheaper than other material, was chosen. With the exception of a few of the older residents of the city, the petitions were signed by all of the property owners.

Eagle Ladies Party

Nearly one-sixth of all persons referred by the employment offices to positions during April were sent to farmers. The total number of persons referred to farm positions was 1,109 as against 370 in March. The placements made on farms by the employment offices during April were nearly double those of any previous month in the entire history of these offices.

Less than one-fourth of the placements made were those of casual workers. During the last month there were many high grade placements. One employment office placed with an electrical engineer in a position with a $3000 salary, and another a general sales manager with the same salary.

Bachelor Wants $15,000 Stone Over His Grave

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—A weather-beaten tombstone, doing service in Mt. Calvary cemetery, Madison, for years, is the only bequest made to relatives under the strange will of the late John Haggerty of this city, filed in the probate court of Dane county Monday.

The old tombstone, erected in memory of the departed Haggertys, is bequeathed to Mollie and Nellie Donohue, Milwaukee, nieces of John Haggerty. Haggerty directed his executor to convert his estate into cash and use the entire sum—estimated at $15,000—in the erection of a monument over his own grave.

Haggerty, a bachelor, 70, died in April. His will was drawn three weeks before. August Paunck, Madison, vice president of the Commercial National bank, was named executor.

Mrs. Nellie Murphy, Madison, a neighbor, will claim the estate. It is understood, setting up an oral will, alleged to have been made by Haggerty during his last sickness.

Relatives of Haggerty are expected to institute proceedings to set aside the instrument and participate in the estate which consists chiefly of Madison real estate.

DICTIONARY DEMAND KEEPS CLERKS BUSY

For nearly a week there has been a steady run of coupon holders at the various distribution counters, where copies of the New Universities Dictionary, being offered to the readers of this paper, are to be obtained. It has kept the publishers busy to supply dictionaries to meet this demand, but they have been equal to the emergency, and all the coupons presented have been redeemed without any delay.

The distribution has been on a scale exceeding expectations, and as yet the demand shows no signs of abatement. That there will be another rush of coupon holders anxious to secure dictionaries is certain, and readers who wish to avail themselves of the offer will do well to be on the ground early.

An indication that the New Uni-

VERSILES DICTIONARY IS ANSWERING A POPULAR DEMAND IS FOUND IN THE UNIFORM CALL FOR THE BOOK. MANY BUSINESS MEN WHO HAVE SECURED A COPY DOWN- TOWN FOR OFFICE USE HAVE RETURNED HOME AT NIGHT TO FIND ONE ON THE DRAWING ROOM TABLE OBTAINED BY MEMBERS OF THE FAMILY.

A large number of "repeaters" have been detected in the lines of coupon holders. One business-like looking person who was among the first to secure a dictionary on the initial day of distribution offer, reappeared today with a handful of coupons. "This is the best bargain I have come across in many a day," he said.

"This is a splendid dictionary, and I am going to make several of my friends a present of one. It will be most acceptable I know."

Mrs. Roy Marston is spending a few days in Chicago.

FEDERAL BAKERY SUIT INVOLVES CHAIN OF STORES

Suit Filed Here—Alleging Fraud
May Nullify All Wisconsin
Contracts.

Charging that the Federal System of Bakeries of America, Inc., Davenport, Iowa, obtained its contract by fraud and had no license to do business in Wisconsin, Dr. J. A. Lyons and W. S. Mason have filed suit to recover $5,000 paid this firm for what they supposed was ownership of equipment used in a bakery operated on West College-ave, but what proved to be only a license to use the machinery and formulae. The bakery suspended business several weeks ago, and the proprietors have attached the equipment and fixtures.

At a hearing held in municipal court before Judge A. M. Spencer Monday morning permission was granted to remove the case to federal court because of the diversity of citizenship. Most of the officials of the Federal company reside in Iowa. The case probably will be tried in the United States district court for eastern Wisconsin in Oshkosh.

This case is an important one because it will be up to the court to decide whether the Federal System of Bakeries of America, Inc., is engaged in interstate commerce or is doing business within the state. There are bakeries in a number of cities and should it be proven that the company was doing business within the state without a license all contracts involving thousands of dollars would become void. It is alleged that the company has never taken out a license to do business in the state, as is required of other bakeries.

It is said that Dr. Lyons and Mr. Mason gained the impression from conversation with Federal company representatives that they were buying the machinery and fixtures placed in the store opened up here, and believed this was what the contract set forth. The contract reads, however, that the equipment was to be licensed to the local men in return for the payment of $5,000; that the title would remain with the Iowa firm; that the local bakery was to pay 3 per cent on its gross receipts; that flour, raisins and other supplies were to be purchased from the Federal company; that expenses such as repairs, taxes, freight and other incidentals were to be paid by the Appleton men.

When Dr. Lyons and Mr. Mason attempted to dispose of their business, they found that this was a violation of the contract. The suit is brought to recover $5,000 paid to the Federal company.

Morgan and Johns appeared for the plaintiffs and Fawcett and Smart, Milwaukee, for the defendants.

Save Children's Teeth To Preserve Their Health

Children at Dental Clinic Show
Amazing Neglect, Dr.
Ellsworth Says.

Man's most valuable asset is his teeth, according to Dr. J. J. Ellsworth, who is conducting a free dental clinic in the city hall for Appleton school children at 3 o'clock every Friday afternoon. Dr. Ellsworth said every tooth is a priceless pearl and should be treated as such, but the average child presented at the clinic has anything but a healthy mouth.

The clinic serves children from all of the schools of the city. A schedule has been arranged so that all will have an equal chance. Dr. Ellsworth is assisted in this work by Miss Jane Barclay, school nurse of the First and Second districts, whose time has been donated by these districts so that she may assist children from all of the districts who are sent to the clinic. "The temporary teeth are covered with stain and a great many of them are badly decayed," Dr. Ellsworth said. "The six year molars or first molars of the permanent set often are diseased. These conditions were manifested in the 33 cases brought to our attention at the clinic in the last five weeks. The sad part of it is that many of these teeth have to be lost before the proper time because of early neglect."

Pay Big Dividends.
"If every person would brush his teeth properly two minutes each morning and evening, the interest from a financial standpoint would be many thousand per cent. To say nothing of the health benefits thus derived."

"When an institution like the Mayo clinic of Rochester, Minn., will make a statement that more than 75 per cent of all diseases are traced to the mouth and teeth, it is about time to realize the value of the teeth and make an effort to preserve them."

"Many parents cannot see the importance of taking care of the temporary teeth and as a result of this neglect, the first molar of the permanent set which erupts at the age of 6 years has to be lost."

"If parents would only remember that the child has as many teeth in the temporary set as it has fingers and toes, this mistake will not be made, providing they will take enough interest to look in the child's mouth occasionally and see what is going on."

"Decay in the first teeth is in reality even more harmful than at a later age, for nutrition is more easily disturbed and its disturbance means more interference with the general development of mind and body of the individual."

Insure Good Health.
"That good teeth will materially assist in the production of good health should not be questioned; neither should the proposition that good health will materially assist in the production of good teeth. Hence every precaution should be taken from the health standpoint to see that nothing within our power shall interfere with the child's development, because it is at this time that the permanent teeth are being developed in the jaws underneath the first set, and anything that interferes with the child's nourishment, such as diseased baby teeth, will have a direct bearing upon the permanent set."

"It is very important that every child receive dental attention before this service is too late to do the most good. We all know what diseased tonsils can do to the development of a child; but with the teeth we not only have one or two to deal with as in the case of the tonsils, but twenty; hence the teeth need our constant attention and care."

"Many leaders in the dental profession of today are devoting all their time to the care of children's teeth, or what is known as one phase of 'preventive dentistry.' This field of work has not been given the prominence which its importance and necessity deserves, or which will be given in the near future. We must recognize that the percentage of possible prevention decreases as the individual grows older, while with the child from 3 to 6 years of age, the preventative per cent is highest."

"Our work at the dental clinic consists of silver and cement fillings, extractions and oral prophylaxis. By that I mean the removal of the tartar and stains from the tooth. We do not hesitate to extract a tooth as much as we dislike to have the child lose it, when we see an infection present, or which is bound to be present if the tooth is retained, because we value the child's health more than the tooth."

"All this makes it evident that an ideal solution cannot be reached in one year or two, but it will take generations to have real effect. Much can be done now, however, and to work toward this ideal is within our powers, and should be the pursuit of every individual who is a lover of children."

C. C. TAYLOR JOINS CHICAGO PAINT FIRM

C. C. Taylor, formerly with the Fox River company, has purchased an interest in the firm of Stewart Adams and company, Chicago, manufacturers of paints and enamels. He already has gone to Chicago to assume his new position. Mrs. Taylor will visit relatives in Waukegan, Ill., and other cities for several weeks, after which the family will establish its home permanently in Chicago.

Mr. Taylor originally planned to engage in the paper jobbing business here under the name of the Taylor Paper company, but was urged to associate himself with the Chicago firm, therefore gave up the idea.

STEAM SHOVEL DIGS CELLAR FOR STORE

Milwaukee Firm Does Quick
Work in Excavating for Brettschneider Building.

Fred Hoffman & Son, who were awarded the contract for David Brettschneider's new 5-story building on College-ave., commenced excavating Monday morning with a steam shovel owned by Froeming & Radtke of Milwaukee, and expect to complete the job within the next three days. The shovel will then be moved to the site of the new Lutheran Aid building at the corner of College-ave. and Superior-st., where it will be in operation for a longer period.

The use of a steam shovel in excavating for a building is something new in Appleton and held the attention of a large number of spectators the greater part of the day. The earth is removed by heavy self-dumping motor trucks to the large ravine back of the Post-Crescent building.

The steam shovel is designed especially for the kind of work it is doing and does away with a large number of men and teams. It was shipped to Appleton by way of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road and unloaded at the Wisconsin division depot of the Northwestern road, as it was too heavy to be taken across Lakota bridge. It prounds itself and made the trip from the depot to the scene of operations under its own steam. The motor trucks were brought here by drivers.

Lawrence J. Sommer and Charles Weinfurter, delegates of the Sacred Heart society to the State-Variety of Wisconsin which is being held at Marshfield, left for that city Saturday evening.

Eagle Ladies will hold their weekly card party at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon in Eagle hall.

PALTZER TO SELL PICK OF HOLSTEINS

Nicholas Paltzer, town of Grand Chute, is one of the heaviest consignors to the first annual consignment sale of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association at the Outagamie Equity exchange Friday, May 27. He has entered six pure bred Holsteins that are among the best in his herd.

At the head of his list is a cow 10½ years old that held a record this winter of producing 26½ pounds of butter in a 7-day test from 560 pounds of milk. She is the foundation animal for some of the best producers in Mr. Paltzer's herd, including some offered at the sale.

Two daughters of his cow also are consigned. Both are milking and are bred to Mr. Paltzer's new herd sire, Sir Princess Peterie Ormsby XI, a three-fourths brother to the Wisconsin state champion Holstein sire. There is also a 4-year old cow with a 7-day record of 35 pounds of butter, a son and granddaughter which are descendants of the 26½-pound cow.

Imported organicles—45 inches wide in peach, flame, maize, nilo, rose, copen, Harding blue, pink, orchid and coral. Special value at THE FAIR. adv.

THROUGH GIVES SENDOFF TO EVANGELIST PARTY

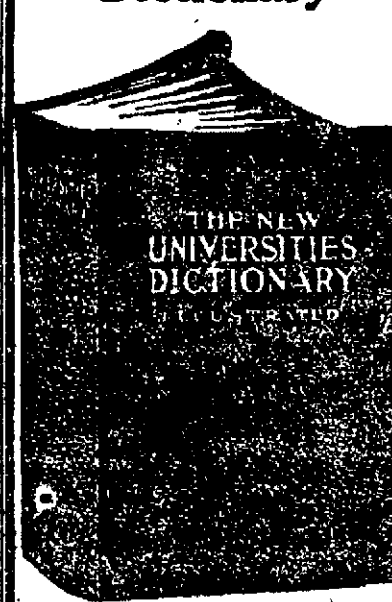

Goodbye were said to members of the McCombe-Clase evangelistic party by a large number of people at the Chicago and Northwestern railway station Monday morning. The party, consisting of Dr. and Mrs. John McCombe, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clase and Mrs. A. L. Roberts, left for Kenosha aboard the train due here at 10:27 o'clock. Several favorite songs of the revival which closed Sunday evening were sung while awaiting the train's arrival.

The party will attend a banquet in its honor in Park-ave. Methodist church, Kenosha, Monday evening. A campaign was conducted there 13 months ago and the event will be a renewal of acquaintanceship. The journey will be resumed Tuesday morning and the trip will terminate in Benton Harbor, Mich., where a brief campaign is to be conducted, starting Sunday.

SIX SCHOOLS ARE ENTERED IN TRACK AND FIELD CONTEST

Lawrence College Authorities Pleased With Interest in District Meet.

Six schools have definitely entered athletes in the eastern Wisconsin intercollegiate track and field meet to be held on Lawrence field Saturday afternoon under auspices of Lawrence college. Some of the schools will enter as many as 20 men, assuming nearly 100 athletes in the competition.

Schools entered thus far are Madison, Oshkosh, Ripon, Kaukauna, Neenah and Appleton. Madison and Oshkosh are sending large delegations and, of course, Appleton will be represented by every man who stands a chance of winning a point.

Much interest and enthusiasm has been created by the big meet and it is believed next year the entry list will be doubled. It means a lot to Lawrence to have these high school athletes compete here and it is a splendid test for the boys.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be given winners of prizes in individual events and loving cups will be awarded the school winning the meet and the athlete winning the largest number of points.

Madison's entrants will arrive here Friday night in order to be rested before the big meet begins. The Capitol city athletes are said to be the best in the state and it would not be surprising if they romp off with the honors. The meet here is in preparation for the state contests in Madison the Saturday following.

Cold weather again caused postponement of the all-college track and field meet scheduled for Lawrence field Tuesday afternoon. Coach H. D. McChesney announced Tuesday morning that he did not want to expose his men to the cold and wet, especially in view of the fact that they are to meet Oshkosh Normal school here in a dual meet Friday morning. This is the second postponement of the meet and it is not known when it will be held.

The Oshkosh Normal-Lawrence meet is to start at 9:30 Friday morning in order not to interfere with the May fete in the afternoon. McChesney says his men, with the exception of Coen, are in good shape now for the meet. Coen strained a tendon in his leg but expects to be able to take part in the sprints. He is one of the fastest men on the Lawrence squad.

The Oshkosh aggregation is said to be exceptionally strong this year and is confident of downing the Blue and White. Nothing would please the Oshkosh crew more than to win from Lawrence and it is certain they will run until entirely exhausted in order to accomplish the trick.

FARMER BOY AFTER DE PALMA'S CROWN

Indianapolis, Ind. — A young man who followed the plow horses in their slow heavy stride on a farm near Crookston, Minn., five years ago, will try to make Ralph De Palma and other speed demons eat his dust on the Indianapolis motor speedway May 26.

The youth is Jules Ellingboe, whom a race promoter picked up from the farm and developed into king of the dirt tracks. Now Ellingboe is seeking to take the crown in the greatest automobile race of all times—the five hundred mile international sweepstakes two weeks hence.

Flashing around the two and a half mile brick oval just before sunset Monday, he shaved the track record in a trial spin. He traveled 101 1/2 miles an hour and his time for the 2 1/2 mile trip was 1:29 flat. This is two-fifths of a second slower than the track record.

Ellingboe had a car entered for last year's race but he couldn't get it ready in time and was unable to start. This year he will drive a Pontiac.

SHORT SPORTS

By United Press Leased Wire. Philadelphia—Fred Fulton, elongated Minnesota plasterer, knocked out Jack Goulard, Los Angeles, in the second round of a scheduled eight round bout here Monday night. Goulard subbed for Homer Smith, Kalamazoo, who backed out of the bout.

Brennan Wins Again. Allentown, Pa.—Bill Brennan, Chicago heavyweight, knocked out Jack Burke, Chicago, in four rounds here Monday night.

Gets Sixth Homer. Kansas City—"Bunny" Brief, first sacker for the Blues, got his sixth home run of the season in the Toledo-Kansas City game Monday. One man was on base.

New Billiard Record. San Francisco—Jake Schaeffer, San Francisco, established a world's 14.2 ball line billiard record here Monday when he pitted up 400 points in three innings against Edward Foreman, Religion champion. The latter scored 111 points in two innings.

How the Heavyweight Battlers Compare

By E. M. Thierry. Atlantic City, N. J.—A lot of folks have a sneaking idea that Jack Dempsey is just a "big" bit contemptuous in the big fight. Don't you believe it. Talking with the champ and watching him, you get this idea: That Dempsey has learned a double-barreled lesson in the danger that lies in over-confidence and under-estimation.

That he learned the lesson from Jess Willard and Bill Brennan—in different ways.

That he figures Willard fell partly because he under-estimated Dempsey and that he himself came mighty near falling because he didn't take Brennan as seriously as he should.

Jack has a high opinion of Georges Carpentier and he isn't backward about admitting it.

Takes No Chances. "Carpentier's a tough fellow all right; and I'm not taking any chances," he says. "How many rounds do you figure on?"

"Well, I don't know," he answered. "You never can tell. But if I can keep my chin out of the way—"

The sentence was left unfinished. And Dempsey wasn't smiling—as he usually is. It was serious meditation. For Jack takes the Frenchman seriously; as a skillful boxer, a hard hitter and a man able to take punishment.

"This fight will be just as important for me as the fight with Willard," he said. "It isn't going to be easy. And so don't get the idea that I'm going to be over-confident or that I'm not going to be 'right' when I enter the ring."

Ordinarily Dempsey doesn't like to talk "shop." But he's eager to do so with anyone who has seen Carpentier fight. Questions about the Frenchman's fighting methods and his ability to absorb punishment pop out in a stream.

Jack Benefits. There isn't any doubt but that Dempsey is doing a lot of thinking—and may be worrying—about Carpentier. And that may be a good thing. For it will surely help him to avoid the pitfall of over-confidence.

Jack's early work here shows him to have been greatly benefited by his rest at Freddie Welsh's camp. He's vigorously healthy, with flexible muscles that are rapidly hardening under the more strenuous training. Jack looks and acts like a big boy. He's six foot one and a half and weighs close to 200. When he met Willard he weighed 185. He'll probably get down to 185 for Carpentier.

Despite the fact that Dempsey at 25 has been idolized and feted by hero-worshippers for two years as a champion, that in that time he has made a million or more and that he has close to another half-million coming to him if he knocks out the Frenchman, that the whole world to-day is talking about the man who a few years ago was riding freight trains from town to town to get $50 a month in spite of the fact that Dempsey still wears the same size hat.

His glory and prosperity haven't gone to his head. He's neither snobbish nor proud. He's unspoiled, unselfish, unassuming and absolutely without a trace of self-consciousness. Jack has a glad hand for everybody, whether the newspapermen and photographers are around or not.

NEW ARENA WILL BE BEST OF 'EM ALL

Tex Has Had Considerable Experience in Building Outdoor Rings.

By Max Baithman. Special to Post-Crescent.

New York.—Building arenas for big boxing shows is one of the best things Tex Rickard does. But the arena he is erecting in Jersey City for the Dempsey-Carpentier clash on July 2 is the last word in that line.

Jacksonville, Fla., has the honor of being the scene of the first open air boxing structure. It was put up for the Corbett-Mitchell fight in 1894. It was a ramshackle affair that didn't amount to much.

Had Tough Time. Dan Stuart, who promoted the Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle at Carson City, Nev., in 1897, erected the second fight arena after many setbacks.

Stuart's first site selection was his home town of Dallas, Tex. But after plans had been completed reformers rose up and a special session of the Texas legislature passed a bill making prizefighting a felony.

Stuart then turned to the bullring at Juarez, Mex. Again plans were knocked out by officials.

Hot Springs, Ark., was then tried. He secured a race track, had the ring erected and everything all set. Then authorities again protested. The big "kick" in the picture came when railroad bridges were burned to hold up trains carrying officials to Hot Springs in an effort to prevent them from stopping the fight. But the law prevailed and Stuart moved on again.

Coffroth Built Three. The passage of a bill permitting flash fights in Nevada was obtained and Stuart finally erected his arena. On March 17, 1897, Corbett lost his title to Fitzsimmons.

Jim Coffroth built a fine arena in Colma, Cal., for the Nelson-Britt bout in 1905 and later two permanent outdoor affairs, one at Daly City, Cal., and the other within a few blocks of the heart of San Francisco.

Rickard built his first arena in Goldfield, Nev., for the Joe Gans-Battling Nelson scrap. His second attempt fizzled in San Francisco and, bundling up his lumber and his plans, he finally moved to Reno to build the arena in which Jack Johnson defeated Jeffries.

Rickard's is Last Word. Floyd Gibbons overbuilt himself for the Dempsey-Miske fight at Benton Harbor, while the arena at Toledo, a Rickard affair, was so situated as to be transformed into a huge cauldron.

Today Rickard is making his greatest effort in Jersey City, and, while the Dempsey-Carpentier arena may not be used exclusively for the big fight, $100,000 is a lot of kale to gamble with.

Illinois Whips Iowa. Iowa City, Ia. — Illinois defeated Iowa, 5 to 2, in a Big Ten baseball meet here Monday.

Menasha Assures Immense Crowd. Hundreds of Tickets Have Been Sold for Opening Game Next Sunday.

Menasha fans are going to give Appleton a royal welcome next Sunday when the Brands play in the Menasha park. It will be "Booster Day" for Menasha and all attendance records will be smashed if weather conditions are at all favorable. It has been reported that at least 2,000 tickets have been sold for the game and it is expected that several hundred Appleton fans will help swell the crowd.

It would be well if Appleton and Menasha could get along nicely this year. Healthy rivalry is a good thing but it is bad for sport and fans when it is carried too far. Both teams are determined not to let personal animosities figure this year and it is believed a real close sports relationship between the two towns can be built up.

It is certain that Appleton will be largely represented at the Menasha game. The up-river city is loaded to meet the Brands and a real thriller of a battle can be expected.

Gets Mail Contract. Edward C. Arnold has been awarded the contract for hauling mail between the postoffice and railroad depots. He will engage in this work May 21 and is required to furnish a regulation 1-ton mail truck, properly screened and lettered on its sides to designate it as a carrier of United States mail. The mail previously was hauled by A. J. Herrmann.

I'd walk a mile for a Camel

The pleasure is worth it. There's no substitute for Camel quality and that mild, fragrant Camel blend.

The fellow who smokes Camels, wants Camels. That's because Camels have a smoothness, a fragrance and a mildness you can't get in another cigarette.

Don't let anyone tell you that any other cigarette at any price is so good as Camels.

Let your own taste be the judge. Try Camels for yourself. A few smooth, refreshing puffs and you'd walk a mile for a Camel, too.

BUICK

Beating the Southern Pacific's Fastest Limited

The Shasta Limited is the fastest train traveling over the 751 miles of magnificent track between San Francisco and Portland.

But Buick clipped 44 minutes off the best time ever made by this train.

A stock 1921 Buick Coupe on January 7th and 8th performed this remarkable feat. Conquering frozen roads and mud holes, winding mountain roads and rocky canyons, Buick once again demonstrated its characteristic inbuilt power, endurance and reliability.

The time of 29 hours, 16 minutes has never been equalled in a trip on land between these two Pacific Coast cities.

FILIPINOS TAKE TO SPORTS LIKE DUCKS TO WATER

not only played rapidly and accurately, but they showed an infallible knowledge of the intricacies of the game.

Once the female Kate Ruth of Philadelphia indoor base ball, when they were not out and second, and then were filled, knocked a hot liner over second that looked safe if anything ever looked safe. But center field tore for it, snatched it an inch from the ground, never stopped her run, touched second and slammed it down to third in time to complete the triple. "Shapely work!" yelled a crowd of excited Americans. "I was no less."

"Indoor" play is a misnomer. Nobody plays anything but the game indoors in the Philippines. The games are played on regular fields. Girls' teams wear uniforms, dark blue skirts and red hair ribbons light blue with white facings white with blue trimmings and all that. American fans may care to note that the champion lady of the Philippines is Miss Lillie Cobb, a mestizo (half caste) and a relative of "Ty" Cobb.

The girls' devotion to the game is not only as the boys. The Philippine boys, taking them by and large, are the better base runners I have ever seen. If they could be as well as they field and run bases they would be the world's wonders. At that, I saw those same sugar pushers play a fourteen inning tie, 2-2, with the best American team in Manila, and believe me, little children, it was a game!

Anything in the line of clean athletic looks good to the new generation in these islands. Go into any government or public office in Manila; you will find conspicuously placed at least one glass case containing the trophies won on the athletic field by teams from that office. Baseball, basketball, volleyball, swimming, track athletics, football, every approved style of athletic endeavor, is represented in those cases. And very likely the arms of Spain or a fresco painting of Philip the Second will adorn the wall right over head. The old day and the new.

Or go into any school above the primary grade. You will find the trophies of famous teams from that school cherished and handed down from class to class as precious possessions. The average athletic excellence of all these schools attracts the comment of every visitor. One reason is that Dr. Camillo Ozas, Assistant Director of Education, a Filipino well known to educational America, has charge of this branch of the work and brings to it enough undivided pep to start off the whole archipelago if it were not already plunging along the athletic road.

The performances, moreover, are far from elementary. At the Manila interschool track and field meet, end of January this year, five interschool records were broken. There was a javelin throw of 163 feet, an 880 yard run in 2 minutes 5 seconds, a 220 yard low hurdle run in 26.5 seconds, 880 yard relay run in 1 minute 32 seconds, 1 mile relay race in 3 minutes 28 seconds.

The Philippine boxers now touring and winning battles in Australia are rather outside of this consideration. Yet legitimate note may be made of the fact that one of them has fought 57 contests and never lost one.

But it is in all around athletics that the Filipino takes most pride—general physical development. And, speaking of that, the carnival every year produces some remarkable exhibitions of varied abilities. At the decathlon, for instance, which is about as good a test as any, the people here think they have international material, east or west, in Juan Tadian, the star catcher of that team from the sugar farm about whom I have said so much. Tadian's decathlon record this year was 388 in the first half (nearest competitor 359) and 371 in the second half (nearest competitor 317). As the athletic jag called the decathlon includes a 100 yard dash, running broad jump, shot put, running high jump, 440 yard run, 220 yard low hurdle, discus throw, pole vault, running hop, step and jump, and a mile run, it will be seen that young Mr. Tadian is quite a boy. Particularly when we remember that just as he stands he can throw to second like a cannon shot.

As to the practical fruitage of all this, there again is something profoundly interesting to every philosopher. Dr. Ozas in a recent magazine article published here, expressed the rather startling belief that the course in athletics of the public school would eventually make the Filipino a tall as well as a stronger and healthier race. He had solid grounds for his hope. The superintendent of the medical division of the Philippine constabulary reported in 1916:

EXPECT CAPACITY HOUSE FOR HOME TALENT PLAY

Capacity houses are expected for the home talent play, which is to be presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the school hall by the young people of St. Paul Lutheran church. The performance starts at 8:15. Rehearsals have been in progress for weeks for this play, which is staged in a workroom of a postoffice, contains a light detective story and ends in a romance between the stamp and money order clerks.

foundly interesting to every philosopher. Dr. Ozas in a recent magazine article published here, expressed the rather startling belief that the course in athletics of the public school would eventually make the Filipino a tall as well as a stronger and healthier race. He had solid grounds for his hope. The superintendent of the medical division of the Philippine constabulary reported in 1916:

"After examining and keeping record of more than 1,000 enlisted men I firmly believe that the Filipino is a much larger man physically than he was eight or ten years ago due no doubt to the athletic training the young generation has been receiving and is receiving in the primary, intermediate and high schools of the islands."

It is a recorded fact that children in the public schools have better health than children outside of them and medical testimony that athletics in the schools have decreased tuberculosis among children.

There is something else. The Filipinos are naturally sober and moral people; but there is among them one ancient though imported vice. They still tolerate cock fighting. The harm of it is not only the brutality but cock fighting is a popular form of gambling the law cannot reach. Yet baseball is reaching it. Every year cock fighting declines. The now generation cares nothing for a cock fight in comparison with a ball game. You will still see in every village, and along the country roads of a Sunday, men with roosters under their arms seeking to arrange matches; but they are older men always. The boys don't want to it. Again glory be to the unapproachable national game, the king of all sports.

But a nation that takes so quickly and successfully to baseball, the most difficult of all field games, demanding the greatest exercise of wit and intelligence, will you say that it is hopeless incapable of self government? No, in an old base ball player like yourself.

INDOOR BASEBALL GAMES AT Y. M. C. A. ARE ENDED

The indoor baseball contest which has been conducted between the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium classes ended this week with the Trouts, captained by McCullough, winning over the Sharks, captained by Carl Engler. The Trouts won six games and lost four and the Sharks won four games and lost six.

The Mosquitoes of the high school class won honors by winning seven out of ten games from the Fleets, while the grade school honors were evenly divided between the Bears and the Lions. Each team won five games and lost five. The championship game will be played off Saturday morning.

Nuxated Iron Imitator Comes To Grief in U.S. Court ORDERED TO PAY $1,000 DAMAGES

and to cease using the words "Nux and Iron" on the fraudulent imitation. Another Nuxated Iron imitator was recently caught in Tennessee and given a heavy fine for violation of the criminal law—But the rascals are not all caught yet so beware of substitutes—How to tell the genuine.

IN LIFE THERE ARE "FAKE" DIAMONDS AND REAL DIAMONDS. For real diamonds there are always imitations and substitutes, but nobody ever heard of a substitute for a "fake" diamond—IT'S THE THINGS OF REAL VALUE THAT ARE AFFLICTED WITH IMITATIONS.

Nuxated Iron has its substitutes and fraudulent imitations, the reason is plain. NUXATED IRON IS ORGANIC IRON LIKE THE IRON IN YOUR BLOOD and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. It is far more expensive to manufacture Nuxated Iron than ordinary metallic or mineral iron which people usually take, and which is made merely by the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron.

OVER 4,000,000 PEOPLE ANNUALLY ARE USING NUXATED IRON TO HELP GIVE THEM RICH RED BLOOD, REVITALIZE THEIR WEAROUT EXHAUSTED NERVES AND INCREASE THEIR BODILY AND MENTAL VIGOR. The fraudulent imitator is cheaper and just as good. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Thousands of nervous, run-down persons, who were all the while have surprisingly increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time in many instances. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes. Always look for the word "Nuxated" on every package and forever to cease from using the words "Nux and Iron." Another has been given a heavy fine for violation of the criminal code. (We refrain from giving wide publicity to their names because we hope they will now reform and become honest upright citizens.) Beware of anybody who offers you something else which he claims is cheaper and just as good. (We refrain from giving wide publicity to their names because we hope they will now reform and become honest upright citizens.) Beware of anybody who offers you something else which he claims is cheaper and just as good. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two grain tablets of ordinary Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Thousands of nervous, run-down persons, who were all the while have surprisingly increased their strength and endurance in two weeks' time in many instances. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturer if you do not obtain perfectly satisfactory results. Beware of substitutes.
